iGO Part 2 makes the accurate collection of an application's medical data a snap. Condition-specific questions are presented in smart wizard screens that guide you through the process. Medical data is placed directly into the proper version of the paper forms, ensuring the process is done right the first time. Medical examiners can easily prep the forms before heading out into the field, too, making the visits faster and more efficient than ever. And when Part 1 of the application is submitted through iGO, customer data is pre-populated.
